EXPERIENCE

Robert Hurst is an associate in the Savannah office, where he focuses his practice on business litigation and Georgia property tax issues and appeals.

Robert works with businesses and individuals on a wide variety of general and commercial litigation matters, including product liability, real estate litigation, trust and estate litigation, fiduciary liability, real and personal property tax issues, and contract disputes.

Robert earned his J.D., cum laude, from the University of South Carolina School of Law, where he was a member of the Order of Wig and Robe and the student works editor for the South Carolina Law Review. Robert also served as a summer law clerk for the CHAMPS Law Clinic, which takes on legal cases on behalf of low-income children and families struggling with health-related legal issues.

A native of Morgantown, West Virginia, Robert graduated from St. John's College, Annapolis, in 2007 with a B.A. in Liberal Arts. He worked for several years as a freelance writer and publisher of tourist magazines in South Carolina before pursuing a legal career. Robert lives in Bluffton with his wife, Sarah, and their daughters, Samantha and Olivia.
